GLENDALE COMMUNITY SERVICE IS HUGE SUCCESS

1,000 ATTEND DEDICATION OF THE COMMUNITY CENTER IN VERDUGO HILLS DISTRICT

REV. EDMONDS ASKS BLESSING

John S. McGroarty Is Inspired Orator of the Big Day in the Sparr Heights Tract

"Community Center—Dedicated to the residents of Glendale and Sparr Heights. William Sparr, Leslie E. Francis. Francis-Barnum-Walters Co.. Dec. 17, 1922."

Thus reads the inscription on the cornerstone of the first community center in Glendale—the one that is being erected for the people of this valley—the one which in years to come is destined to become the leading center of social activity and art of this great valley—in fact, of this entire section.

Fate was kind, Sunday, to those who are giving this wonderful building to this valley and to those who gathered to hear the words of Glendale's grandest gentleman, John Steven McGroarty, spoken in commendation of those who by almost an unprecedented public spirited act, are giving this building to Glendale; to see Mayor Robinson, the singing mayor, lay the corner stone of this structure; to hear Dr. Jessie A. Russell very clearly and eloquently discuss the merits, the needs, the purposes of the community civic center; to hear Rev. W. E. Edmonds ask God's blessing upon the structure, and to listen to the many beautiful musical selections rendered by the Elks' band.

Fate was indeed kind. There was hardly a cloud in the sky. The sun shone down with gentle warmth upon the beautiful Verdugo valley. It stole quietly into the many little crannies and nooks of that God-favored section, and pressed warm kisses upon the level stretches, where before a great while hundreds of homes, the occupants of which will be peaceful, nature-loving folks, will rise.

Only a breath of air was stirring—just enough to waft the perfume of the foliage on the hillsides to those who were gathered beneath the large tent erected in the center of that most wonderful of valleys.

About 1000 people were present. They came from near and far, by automobile, on foot and via electric car. Those who attended are among the forward-looking people of the valley. They are those who are looking to the Glendale of the future, who realize the value of community center operations, and are aware of what the wonderful structure, the cornerstone of which was laid Sunday, will mean to Glendale. They gathered, not only to see the cornerstone laid and to hear the beautiful music and speeches, but to do honor to the public spirited men, the Sparr Heights company, who are making the erection of this structure possible.

That wonderful man, John Steven McGroarty! That ardent, big-souled lover of the hills, that dreamer of the long ago, of the days when things moved slowly and when the jazz was unknown. He spoke to the people who were gathered at Sparr Heights, Sunday.

"Most all men and some women want to live as long as they can," said this wonderful man. "I don't know what heaven is like. Some people say it is much grander than this earth, but as for me, I would be perfectly satisfied if they would let me live in this wonderful valley forever.

"Many years ago I lived in Los Angeles, but that was before the jazz got to be the style. When that came in, I left. The city got too full of people, and it became permeated with an unholy smell. I believed that if you want to live long you will have to go to the hills—so I came to these wonderful Verdugo hills.

"But gradually the cities are closing down on me. First came Glendale, which is now a roaring city, and now another city is in the making at Sparr Heights. If the new city which is destined to grow on the soil on which we now stand proves to be the kind they tell us it is going to be, everything will be well, for there are good cities and bad cities, but if it proves to be otherwise, we simply will have to see what is on the other side of those wonderful hills to the north.

"When I came to Glendale there was no singing mayor in that place. It was too small for that. Mayor Robinson has told you that a few years ago there were only three people and a goat in Tujunga.

Folks, when I first saw Glendale the only thing in that place was a goat.

"Well can I remember the first day I ever saw this valley. Los Angeles grew to be too much of a roaring town for me, so I set sail up into the San Fernando valley. I had heard of the Verdugo canyon and I wanted to see it, so I headed up this way. I hadn't gone far before I knew that this was to be my future home. All that remained for me to do was to select the site of my home. This was done and I have been here ever since.

"Cities are all right if they are right. If you must have cities let us pray God that they be good cities, filled with kindly, happy folks. If that is the kind of a town you are going to build here, may God speed its construction. I believe that on the place where we now stand Glendale will see an edifice rise that will mean happiness to many people. May this wonderful valley progress. May the rain come and may the sun kiss it and may it grow and prosper."

In describing the aims and purposes of the community center, Dr. Jessie A. Russell said:

"The great need of any community is the community center—a place where children, both grown-up and young, may gather and have a good time. No section can make the progress without a community center that it would make with one.

"A community center is a place where the residents of the section congregate and get acquainted, where they learn to know each other, where the things that would be for the good of the community are brought up and discussed. A great deal of the civic work of the community is transacted at the community center, games and outdoor amusement are provided, and clean, wholesome pastimes are enjoyed. For this reason I believe that this day marks an event that will go down in the history of this city.

"The value of a community center in any city cannot be over estimated, its real worth is beyond words, and to this move we owe our co-operation and support. This building is the result of a dream—a vision, but its results are going to be extremely substantial."

"It's the wonderful class of people we have in Glendale that has made the city what it is," said Mayor Robinson in his speech immediately before officiating at the laying of the cornerstone. "They are a grand lot of folks here. No wonder they live to be 100, 150 and 200 years old. When we remember that two or three years ago Glendale had but 13,000 population and now she has 35,000, we understand the wonderful progress this city has really made. To offset this statement Mr. McGroarty will tell you that a few years ago there were only three men and a goat in Tujunga, while today there are 4,000 people.

"I am often asked what made Glendale the city she is. I always answer, 'That progressive spirit.' Years ago they used to erect tombstones to the memory of great men. These days men erect buildings that are a benefit to mankind that remain for lifetimes after they are gone.

"The big thing in connection with this community center is not the magnificent structure that will soon rise on this foundation, but the spirit that prompts the Sparr Heights company to erect it to the service of those in this valley. It will live long after all of us have passed away, and as long as it is here it will continue to be a source of joy and pleasure to those living here. There are men who enjoy hoarding up money, and there are also men who delight in providing features that will be enjoyed by thousands."

In his eloquent address of welcome to the hundreds who had gathered, Mr. M. Walters, said:

"In behalf of the Sparr Heights company, owners of the property from mountain top to mountain top, as I welcome you today you are to welcome others who will come here in the days and years that are to come.

In this world things do not simply happen—they are the result of dreams and of planning. In 1771 the king of Spain sent here a man to guard the missions in this section. As was the custom in those days he was given a paper which entitled him to select as much land as he wanted for his own use. That man was Jose Marie Verdugo. He rode up the Arroyo Seco and followed the Sierra Madres westward to the place that is now Tujunga, then he came down the San Fernando valley to the point that is now Garvanza. After making this trip he owned the land, and he lived and died here. He had one son and one daughter. The son married and among his children was one daughter. Her name was Marie Antonia Verdugo Chavoy, who is with me on the platform today. For all the 117 years of her life she has lived in this valley. Seventeen years ago another man, William S. Sparr, came to this valley and acquired the property that is now the Sparr Heights.

"We hope to make Sparr Heights a wonderful place. On it will be a beautiful golf course, this community center building and other features that will, we hope, make it one of the most wonderful places in this part of the country."

A statement issued by William S. Sparr, Leslie E. Francis, H. E. Barnum and M. Walters, doners of this building to Glendale, reads as follows:

"With the hope and belief that the social and artistic activities created by a community center will tend toward social and moral uplift, the owners of Sparr Heights are erecting this community center building to be dedicated to the residents of Sparr Heights and the city of Glendale."

The invocation of the afternoon was asked by Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Glendale, and the musical numbers were rendered by the Elks' band of Glendale.

Among the hostesses of the day were: Mrs. R. E. Chase, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, Mrs. Don Orput, Mrs. L. T. Rowley, Miss Kathleen Woods, Mrs. Mae Rosenberg, Miss Katherine Sinks, Mrs. Helen Sawyer, Mrs. George Kaeding, Mrs. Hugh Blue, Miss Mildred McCoubrey, Mrs. Stephen Huntington, Mrs. L. H. Wilson, Mrs. Nanno Woods, Miss Eva Daniels, Mrs. W. H. Dotson, Mrs. Mabel Tight, Miss Dorothy Woods, Mrs. A. P. McBoyle, Mrs. G. Phillips, Mrs. L. Bradley.

DO YOU KNOW GLENDALE IN ITS FACTS AND FIGURES?

Do you know Glendale?

Do you know how Glendale is growing?

Do you know how the growth of Glendale during the past two years compares with that of South Bend, Ind.; Medford, Mass.; Newport News, Va.; Reading, Penn.; Waterloo, Iowa?

Do you know that Glendale added more inhabitants to its population during the past two years than any of these five large cities did during the past ten years?

Did you know that during the past two years Glendale added to its population 20,464 people, while Reading, Pa., a city of 107,784, increased its population by only 11,713 during the past ten years?

Do you know the advantages Glendale has to offer to those who are coming to California with the intention of providing a "nest" in this "land of Golden Realities?"

Do you know WHY Glendale has grown as she has grown?

Do you know why she will continue to grow?

Facts, bare facts, which are anything but cold on account of the spirit of progress that prevails here and the actual growth Glendale is making, covering these and many other points concerning Glendale will appear in the first annual analytical and fact edition to be published by the Glendale Press on January 1st. This will cover everything financial, social and economical in Glendale, with comparisons to outside points.

This number will show the "why" and "how" of Glendale. Why and how she has grown; why she will continue to grow; why this is an ideal place in which to live and bring up a family—and all that. It will be facts from cover to cover, for, after all, it is facts that talk the loudest.

MC'GROARTY RESIDENCE DESTROYED

MANUSCRIPTS SAVED

Xmas Presents and All Household Goods Are Burned Up

The residence of John S. McGroarty, Southern California poet and author, was totally destroyed early today by fire which consumed all the household goods and wearing apparel of the poet and his wife. His studio, containing his books and manuscripts located some distance away was untouched.

Dr. and Mrs. T. K. Carney of New York, who were visiting the McGroartys saved their trunks.

Fortunately there was no wind so the fire after consuming the home of the poet died down.

The McGroarty home is located on a hillside at Tujunga. The studio is a little distance up the hill.

About eight o'clock this morning, a defective pipe leading oil to the cook stove from a supply outside of the building, sprang a leak, before it could be stopped, the kitchen was in flames. The little garden hose proved ineffective in the fight.

Mr. McGroarty, engrossed in his work at the studio did not grasp the meaning of the cries down at his residence, until Mrs. McGroarty rushed to the studio.

By that time the flames had gained such headway that although the neighbors had gathered quickly, it was seen nothing could be done.

The poet, Mrs. McGroarty and their guests stood and watched their worldly possessions go up in smoke together with all their Christmas presents.

STANDARD OIL STATION HELD UP AND LOOTED

Thieves Secure Money from Keeper at S. Fernando and Colorado

The Standard Oil station, located on the corner of San Fernando road and Colorado, was held up and robbed, Saturday night, the thieves securing between $30 and $40 in cash.

When the holdups left they forced the station keeper into the car with them, after which they drove away with him. It is believed the idea of the thieves in doing this was to keep the Standard's employe from reaching a telephone before the thieves had made their escape.

The machine driven by the thieves carried a taxi license. The police have been notified and are now working on the case.

LA CANADA HOME IS ROBBED BY BURGLARS

$3485 in Jewelry and Clothing Stolen From Morrison Home

Jewelry and clothing having a valuation of about $3485 were stolen on Christmas day from the home of B. C. Morrison, corner of Palm and Mountain streets, La Canada, according to the Glendale police department. The theft took place between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock Monday morning.

The sheriff's office and the police departments in this region have been notified.

GREEN HAT FOUND

Found—One hat.

A boy's greenish-colored hat was found by Lieutenant Griffin of the Glendale police department on the high school grounds Christmas night. It is size 6¾ and the owner may have it by calling at the police department and identifying it.

Mrs. Widdows Thanks Organization for Community Support

Mrs. W. Q. Widdows, chairman of the program committee for the Glendale Community Christmas celebration, wishes to express her appreciation for the splendid cooperation shown by the various churches and organizations who were asked to sing and take part in any way in the program given last night at the high school grounds. She also thanks Mrs. Harry McMullin and Mrs. Dora Gibson, members of her committee, for their splendid support in arranging the program.

POLICE AND FIREMEN GIVE THANKS

The Glendale police and fireman's Relief Association desire to extend to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Darling their sincere thanks for their financial contribution to the Association's relief fund. Not having the address of Mr. and Mrs. Darling, it is necessary to thank the Darlings publicly through the Press.

GLENDALE B. AND L. WELCOMED TO THE CITY

Formal Opening Is Attended by Big Crowd of Visitors

The Glendale Building and Loan Association, 212½ West Broadway, had its formal opening on Saturday from 3 to 10 p. m. There was a constant stream of people in and out of the offices during the day, and many expressed their goodwill and signified a desire to make investments.

President and General Manager W. B. Howard, and Secretary O. A. Danielson, assisted by Directors Sorensen, M. D. Webb and L. B. Ankeny were present and entertained visitors, many of whom expressed a desire to make investments. Mesdames Sorensen, Webb and Ankeny were also present and served the many visitors with delicious punch and wafers. Many business firms sent flowers as an appreciation of the opening of this new institution which promises to mean so much for Glendale.

The Glendale Building and Loan Association starts out with every indication of making rapid growth. W. B. Howard is a well known eastern financier, having been in business in Lincoln, Neb., for many years, and made a huge success of a large insurance company and other enterprises with which he has been connected. Mr. Danielson is a very capable business man, and the directors are well known and reliable business men, whose sole aim will be to help build up Glendale, and at the same time enable investors to get good returns on their money. Building and loan associations have played a great part in the upbuilding of California communities and the Glendale Building and Loan Association proposes to add all in its power to encourage the building of homes in Glendale.

Messrs. Howard and Danielson are desirous of getting acquainted with the people of Glendale and anyone desiring to know the workings of the building and loan associations, all of which are founded upon sound business principles and under the control of the state.

WORK BEGINS ON NEW GLENDALE SANITARIUM

Forms for Concrete Work Are Placed for Foundation

Twelve to fifteen men are at work on the site of the new Glendale sanitarium assembling the forms for concrete work, putting in foundation, etc., although the permit will not be taken out until after the first of the year. Not until June or July, even though the enterprise moves as swiftly as planned will it be far enough advanced for the corner stone laying. Manager C. E. Kimlin predicts it will be 15 months before it will be ready for dedication.

PIERCE BIKE IS FOUND

A Pierce bicycle was found Sunday night at the rear of the building at the corner of Brand and Broadway. Anyone losing a bike of this make should call at Glendale police department and "compare notes."

APPROXIMATELY EIGHT THOUSAND GATHER ABOUT HIGH SCHOOL GROUNDS TO WITNESS THE FIRST EFFORT OF THE ENTIRE CITY TO GET TOGETHER

Possibility of Making a City of Neighbors Is Demonstrated on Christmas Night About the Big Decorated Tree

ENTIRE NEIGHBORHOOD CROWDED

In Silence and Rapt Attention the Big Audience Watches the Program of the First Celebration of Folks Gradually Unfold

BY CORINNE ORFF

With approximately 8000 people gathered together, with a unity of purpose and friendly spirit of the holiday season to take part in Glendale's first big Community Christmas celebration, held last night at the high school grounds at 7:30 o'clock, the possibility of making Glendale "A City of Neighbors," as well as "A City of Homes," through a community-wide music program, was most conclusively demonstrated. Those few who were fortunate enough to secure a place of vantage on the steps of the high school administration building during the program were greeted with a sea of faces, covering the entire school grounds and with many people standing in and across the street, on the porches and wherever there was a place to stand on the frame of the new Presbyterian church building being erected at Louise and Harvard streets. Absolute silence and rapt attention by the large crowd attested to their interest in and approval of the celebration.

Colonel James W. Everington was general chairman in charge of arrangements and announced the various numbers on the program. David L. Black was chairman of supplies, including the securing of the candy for the children, and Mrs. W. Q. Widdows arranged the musical program, which was staged under the direction of Harry Girard.

The decorative feature of the celebration was the Christmas tree growing on the high school grounds and towering 40 feet in the air. This had been artistically trimmed under the direction of L. W. Chobe, assisted by members of the Glendale fire department. Topping the tree was a large star, on which a vari-colored spotlight was thrown from time to time. Tinsel, ornaments and 300 electric lights completed the tree decoration. An old-fashioned rail and rider fence enclosed very realistic looking drifts of imitation snow which surrounded the base of the tree.

The program opened with a group of two selections by the high school orchestra, assisted by five members of the alumni: William Bode, Horace Jordan, Veda Knapp, Lloyd Knapp and Lawrence Knapp, and with Mrs. Dora Gibson directing. The numbers played were "Largo" (Handel) and "Nazareth" (Gounod). This was followed by the singing fo "O Come All Ye Faithful" by the men's clubs of Glendale and choir of the Holy Family Catholic church, Harry Girard, leader.

The community singing of "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear" and "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," with Alexander Stewart, Pacific coast music organizer for National Community Service, as the leader was the next feature. Words for these carols were projected on a stereopticon screen which had been placed in front of the administration building. The fourth number on the program was the singing of "Coronation" by the members of the First Presbyterian church quartet: Miss Elizabeth Mottern, soprano; Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts, contralto and leader; J. Malcomson Huddy, tenor; C. Clifford Riggs, baritone.

Mayor Spencer Robinson, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Robinson, rendered a solo, "The Birthday of a King." The members of the Madrigal club and the Episcopal church choir under the leadership of Mrs. C. A. Parker sang "While by My Sheep" (Christmas hymn of the 17th century). This was followed by the singing of "Nativity" by the choir of the Congregational church with Howard E. Cavanah as leader. The next number was "God Rest You, Merry Gentlemen," and "We Three Kings of Orient Are" by the Boys' Glee club of the high school, under the leadership of Mrs. Parker.

During the singing of "Silent Night" by the choir of the First Methodist church, Miss Isabel Isgrigg, leader, the red lights on the tree were extinguished and the blue lights made a very subdued and beautiful effect. A tableau of Boy Scouts and American Legion members had been arranged by Emil Kiefer and stood at attention during the singing of this and the community singing of "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner." While the latetr piece was being rendered the spotlight was thrown on the flag, which was raised to the top of the large pole in front of the high school. Accompaniment for the numbers on the program was furnished by the school orchestra.

With instructions to "shake hands with your neighbor and wish him or her a merry Christmas," the program was concluded. However, the big event for the children had just begun. Santa Claus and his brothers distributed 3000 sacks of candy to the little folks present. Assisting in this were Wayne Yarick, James Rhoades, George Moore, William Hunter, Mr. Jessup and R. N. Taylor and other volunteers.

The Christmas celebration was the first big event of a series of programs planned by Glendale Community Service, which stands for the best use of leisure time through a city-wide program of activities—community music, drama, physical and social recreation.

CHRISTMAS DAY AUTOMOBILES MEET AND GO

Three automobile accidents were reported to the Glendale police yesterday. Claude Doty of 348 Hawthorne street, while riding a bicycle at the intersection of Harvard and Columbus, was struck by a machine driven by J. E. Dir of San Gabriel. The boy was hurried to the Glendale sanitarium, where his injuries were attended to, and he was later taken to his home. Doty was arrested immediately but was later released on request of Mr. Dir, who stated he would not enter a complaint against him, according to police records.

Another accident occurred at the corner of Central and Harvard when machines driven by Miss L. M. Stevens, 425 West Ivy and Mrs. J. B. L. Brown of Los Angeles, came together at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Brown was taken to the Glendale sanitarium, where her injuries, which, it is understood, are not serious, were attended to. Both cars were considerably damaged.

Earl W. Kingsley, Sr., of 217 East Broadway, was driving a machine that collided with a car driven by a person whose name could not be learned, the accident occurring at the corner of Wilson and Central at 12:30 o'clock Monday night. No one was injured.

SALT LAKE BOYS SOUGHT IN CITY

Has anyone in Glendale seen Billy Clays 13, and Loran Wilcox 14, of Salt Lake City?

A short time ago these boys thought they had had enough of home life and family ties, and decided to run away. It is believed they headed for Los Angeles. It is barely possible that they are located now in this city. Their parents want them to come home.

Any information concerning the whereabouts of these youngsters should be sent to E. W. Clays, 928 West Fourth avenue, Long Beach.

Japanese Reported Missing to Police

Kesagara Umakuba, a Japanese, and an employe of T. Fanatsu of 1417 South San Fernando road, is missing, according to the Glendale police.

At an early hour Christmas morning Umakuba started with a load of vegetables for Hermosa and Rednodo beaches. Nothing has been heard of him since. The police of Glendale were notified and asked to start a search for the missing Jap.

Umakuba was about 30 years old and when he left Glendale, Fanatsu claims he had between $40 and $100 in his possession.

CHALLENGE CHARGE OF SCHOOL COST

Superintendent White Is Appointed on State Teachers' Committee

AUDITOR MISTAKEN

Keppel Repels Accusation of 600 Percent Increased Expense

Superintendent Richardson D. White is a member of the investigating committee appointed by the California Teachers' association, southern branch, to investigate the misleading statistics quoted in a statement issued by the county grand jury which declared that school costs in Los Angeles county had increased 600 per cent in the past four years. The committee, of which A. R. Cliston, superintendent of schools in Monrovia, is chairman, is to meet Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the office of County Superintendent Mark Keppel, who declared on the floor of the convention that the grand jury had been grossly misinformed by the county auditor, who had made serious errors in his figures.

Mr. White says he is prepared to sustain Superintendent Keppel's declaration so far as Glendale is concerned. Although the increased attendance has occasioned increased expense and the cost of living has risen tremendously, he is certain the increased cost here in no way justifies any such statistics as those quoted and he cannot believe conditions in other parts of the county are vastly different from this city in the matter of school costs.

The foreman of the grand jury has been asked to appear before the committee, which numbers ten, all principals or superintendents of schools, the county auditor will be asked to explain his figures and where he got them, and the county superintendent will be called upon to throw any light he can upon the matter.

LEGION TEAM TO PLAY AT PASADENA

100 Legionnaires Will Leave Hall at 7 o'Clock Wednesday

A. G. Wheelon, manager of the basketball team of American Legion Post No. 127 of Glendale, announced that the local team will play the Pasadena Post of the American Legion Wednesday night at 8:15 o'clock in the Pasadena Y. M. C. A. A party of about 100 Legionnaires and their ladies will leave American Legion hall at 7 o'clock. Everyone is cordially invited to go and Mr. Wheelon states that transportation will be provided for those not having machines.

ROY CROWELL IS CHARGED WITH ALCO DRIVING

Roy L. Crowell, of La Crescenta, was arrested by the Glendale police at 4:10 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the charge against him being reckless driving, according to the Glendale police. The arresting officer claims that Crowell, when arrested, was driving an automobile while in an intoxicating condition.

Crowell was lodged in jail, but was later released. His preliminary hearing will be held today.

THE WEATHER

Southern California: Tonight and Wednesday, fair.

Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair weather with moderate temperature tonight and Wednesday.

MISS WYMAN ENTERTAINS 14

Friday afternoon Miss Frances Wyman of North Maryland avenue entertained fourteen school friends with a luncheon and bridge party.

'WEST IS EAST' TO GLENDALE PASTOR

Rev. Cole Has Received Twelve From Former Pastorate

Probably no other minister in California, or any other state, for that matter, has had the unique experience of Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of Central Christian church, of receiving into the local congregation so many former parishioners. Two or three years ago Guy Mize, whose pastor Rev. Cole was in the Compton Heights Christian church, St. Louis, came to Glendale to see about the family locating here. After a time he returned to St. Louis but was dissatisfied there and came back to Glendale, this time to stay. Some months later his twin brother, Gordon, and his parents, came. All transferred their church membership to Glendale. Before this time had come Mrs. Susie Weisling and two young daughters, Amelia and Katherine, from the same St Louis congregation. A little later came Clarence Green and wife, son-in-law and daughter of Wrs. Weisling, and Mrs. J. I. Bolson, another daughter, but as a visitor, only. She went back to St. Louis after a time, but returned to Glendale a few weeks ago to live, accompanied by her husband's mother. All these were members of the Compton Heights church, St. Louis, also, as is Mrs. Bolson's husband who is here now on a visit but will soon be a permanent resident. So here are twelve people transplanted from one congregation to another nearly 2000 miles distant, and under the same minister. Rev. Cole says he expects several more of his old parishoners to join him in Glendale.

SECOND EPISTLE OF JOHN DISCUSSED BY REV. BROOKS

Continuing the discussion of the epistles of John, the Rev. Keith L. Brooks, spoke as follows before the men's class in the council chamber of the city hall, Sunday at 9:30 a. m.

"The fifth chapter of John's 2nd epistle begins with the statement that the man who is born of God and loves God will also have a love for the children of God. The new birth creates new spiritual relationships, not only between the soul and God, but between the believer and other believers. Real love to God cannot but lead to love for the Father's children. The fatherhood of God is the only source of any real brotherhood of man. Some are fond of talking about the great brotherhood of man, but somehow they find themselves powerless to create the brotherhood of which they dream. The reason is that brothers have to be born. The only hope of real brotherhood lies in the Gospel of Jesus Christ. When men are born again and become brethren in Christ, they have a fellowship not to be found in any other way.

"Robert Moffatt, of Africa, told the story of an African who came in great distress saying that his sheep dog had eaten his copy of the New Testament. Moffatt tried to comfort him, without avail. The man explained that the dog had been so fierce that he was a match for any wild animal that might attack his sheep. He explained that the New Testament makes people full of love and gentleness and he was sure that there would be no more fight in his dog. He had gotten hold of the great principle which John here sets forth. Where there is any real love of God growing out of the teachings of the New Testament, there is bound to be love for our fellowmen.

"'Who is he that overcometh the world but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?' John points out that the faith that conquers is no mere vague belief in God, but a definite belief that includes the incarnation of the Son of God. It is this and only this that leads to the results that John describes in this chapter.

"John then shows that he who believes upon the Son of God will have the witness of God in his own soul, so that he may know that he is a saved man. The word for 'believe' which John uses here and forty times in his gospel, is a word which expresses the strongest confidence and trust in Jesus Christ, a faith that moves toward, and reposes on, its object. For a man not to believe in Christ, John declares, is to reject the record that God has given His Son, and such a man, he says, makes God a liar. We see the dishonoring character of unbelief. It amounts to saying that God is a deceiver who makes statements for which there is no ground. We can do no greater dishonor to a fellowman than to fail to rely upon his promises. It begets distrust of him in others and so it is with a man's failure to repose his faith in Jesus Christ.

"The great climax of the chapter is in the 13th verse: 'These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God, that ye may know that ye have eternal life.' It is possible for one here and now to say, 'I know that I am a saved man.' This is why the assaults of skeptics in every age have failed to make headway. The assurance of salvation is itself invincible. Each new regenerate man is a fresh, original witness to the truth of Christianity. The volume of Christian evidences is being completed day by day, however some may rage against the Bible doctrine of regeneration. So long as men may test it by vital experience, there is no hope of casting the Gospel on the scrapheap.

"Next to believing in Christ the greatest thing is to know assuredly what it involves—the possession of a spiritual life that is eternal. We may have possessions but fail to get any joy from them because we do not know that we have them. Years ago, an aged Indian wandered, half naked, into a western settlement, begging for food. Someone saw a ribbon about his neck, to which a small pouch was suspended. He said that it was a charm that had been given to him in his younger days. They opened it and found that it contained a greasy paper, which proved to be a regular discharge from the federal army, entitling him to a life pension and signed by George Washington. What a picture of one possessing the promises of Christ, yet not realizing what they mean. A man's salvation is not according to his feelings, but according to the testimony that God has given of His Son. Have you truly received that testimony? Then you have the blessings promised. While we may gradually grow in the knowledge and enjoyment of salvation, the possession of it is not a gradual acquisition, but an immediate and perfect reception. Happy is the man who possesses his possessions."

ABANDONS BRIDE AND THRONE FOR PLEBEIAN LOVE

Prince Carol, Crown Prince of Rumania (at right below), has deserted his bride, formerly Princess Helene of Greece (at left below), given up his right of succession to the throne and gone back to his true love, Jeanne Lumbrino (at right above), otherwise known as Zizi Lombaine, the mroganatic wife he at first refused to renounce, but later divorced under pressure from the royal court. Princess Helene, it is reported, will enounce her royal rights, procure a divorce and marry a Greek banker.

The dear old lady pushed her spectacles up on her forehead, and put down, with an indignant sniff, the newspaper she had been reading.

"These firemen must be a frivolous lot!" she remarked.

"Why do you think that, granny?" asked her grandson.

"Because it says as plain as you can read in this paper," the old lady explained, "that after the fire was under control at a building last night the firemen played on the ruins all night. Why could they not go home to bed like other sensible men instead of romping about like children?"

The Sunday school lesson was on Job. The superintendent was endeavoring to picture the painful existence of Job to his youthful audience. To this end he was dwelling at length upon poor Job's sufferings and the futility of medical treatment.

A small boy who had been absorbed in the tale held up his hand.

"What is it, Willie?" asked the superintendent.

"Have they tried Dr. Smith?" asked Willie, naming the family physician.

Think only of yourself and others will cheerfully forget you.

SWEET HALLIE IS CLAIMED BY HER MISTRESS

The winner of the beautiful doll, "Sweet Hallie," at Pendroy's store, little Irene Vivian Clouse, 724 Orange Grove avenue, presented herself at the store Saturday afternoon to claim the doll. Her father, who accompanied her, said when the news of her good luck reached her she jumped about a foot, clapping her hands and otherwise registering joy. As she had only one other doll baby, a Japanese toy, she is the more delighted with her wonderful reward for the best guess made by any little girl in the bean jar contest. She is a pupil in the Colorado school and is a dear, modest child.

500 ATTEND XMAS CELEBRATION OF K. OF C.

M. J. Brennan Acts as Master of Ceremonies for the Day

A real Christmas celebration was held in the new home of the Knights of Columbus on East Lomita avenue, Sunday afternoon, which was enjoyed by not less than 500 people.

Grand Knight Harry Girard made the address of welcome and then turned the meeting over to M. J. Brennan, who acted as master of ceremonies. He called upon Father James O'Neill, who responded in his usual happy and appropriate vein and then the following program was presented by children of the knights and by pupils of the Egan school in which Grand Knight Girard is an instructor:

Song, Catherine Wright with May Miller at piano.
Dance, Marian King.
Recital, Helen M. Peak.
Dance, Elizabeth Angel.
Dance, Rita Cummings.
Song and Dance, Doroth Day.
Song and Dance, Florence Ulm.
Song and Dance, Herman Title.
Song, Norman Title.
Song, Harry Girard.
Song, "Star Spangled Banner" by the audience.

So delighted were the listeners at this program that the expected visit of Santa Claus was forgotten until there was a great stamping of feet and jingling of bells and in walked the good old Saint looking just as of old, and 250 children were made happy by gifts of candy and toys.

C. W. ANDRESON GETS SAD NEWS

GLENDALE DAILY PRESS READERS VOTE AGAINST ANNEXATION BY PHONE

Some Admit They Were Interested in Propaganda, But Soon Saw Through the Proposition and Are Now Strongly in Favor of Home Rule

The first report of any beneficial action received through annexation to Los Angeles has arrived from L. H. Thompson, who formerly resided at Owensmouth.

Mr. Thompson discusses the advantages received through the control of the Edison system by Los Angeles and through the receipt of a water supply.

Glendale has its own electric light distribution, of course, and its water supply is adequate.

Editor Glendale Press: I am heartily in favor of Glendale annexing to Los Angeles. I was for several years a resident of Owensmouth, San Fernando valley, and have owned land there for the past 25 years, consequently know the great benefits the valley derived by annexing.

They have an abundance of good water at the low minimum rate of 75c for domestic uses and a lower rate for irrigating purposes.

After getting control of the Edison system, the city strung wires all over the township gratis to the inhabitants. Edison required a bonus of from $150 to $500 from each inhabitant, according to the distance from the main line, for the same service.

Los Angeles lowered the Edison minimum rate of electricity from $1.25 to 60c.

Hoping that you will give this space in an early issue.

Johnson, his sister, Miss Carolyn Johnson, and two brothers and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson of Alhambra, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Johnson of Eagle Rock.

WAR MOTHERS TO MEET WEDNESDAY

The Lester Meyer chapter of War Mothers, of which Mrs. J. B. Sherwood is president, will hold their last meeting of the year at American Legion hall Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The new officers will be installed at the first meeting in January.

THE SMARTS HAVE XMAS CELEBRATION

Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Smart of 110 Olive street combined the celebration of Christmas and the birthday anniversary of Rev. Smart, whose birthday is on December 27, by entertaining with a family dinner party at their home yesterday. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Root of Glendale and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Waldridge of Los Angeles.

GILLETTE TENT TO HOLD LAST MEETING

The last regular meeting of the members of Mary Jane Gillett tent, Daughters of Veterans, to be held this year will take place tonight at American Legion Hall. Mrs. Susie Peck, president, desires that there be a good attendance as the election of officers will take place and final reports given on the year's work.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bellue of 352 Myrtle street entertained as their guest at dinner Christmas day Mrs. E. Heidet of 230 West Elk avenue. In the evening a group of young people gathered to make merry. A large Christmas tree was lighted and each guest received a gift. Violin selections, including "Silent Night" and "Ava Maria," by Glenn Hurd were much enjoyed. Those present were Fay and Nellie Butler, Clarence Bode, George Emery, Glenn Hurd, Roy Brasfield, Emily, Stella, Madaline and Spencer Bellue, Mrs. Heidet, Mr. and Mrs. Bellue. Mrs. Heidet had been ill and confined to her bed for the past five weeks and was able to be up for Christmas day and enjoy the fun.

EVERINGTONS ENTERTAIN AUCTION SCIENCE CLUB

MRS. PHILLIPS SATISFIED

The lawyer who expended his talents and knowledge in the effort to bring about the acquittal of a murderess, is quoted as saying that his client was satisfied with the verdict. This truly is to be considered gracious of her. He had begun action for an appeal which now he says he had no intention of pressing. But despite her statement, it appears that the woman was not completely satisfied, for she vanished from jail in preference to serving the term stipulated by the court.

The instance calls to mind the character of legal activities as employed to free an accused person known to be deserving of the utmost penalty. The crime of Mrs. Phillips was so wanton and ferocious and revolting as to show that nothing but a confusing of the issue, and the ignoring of facts, could save her from the hanging she so richly merited. The defense seemed to succeed in creating doubt in the minds of certain of the jurors. An effort had been made to thrust responsibility for the act on an innocent witness. It was recognized by all but a few jurors as subterfuge. There was also an endeavor to create the belief that the shrewd, calculating and cruel woman, in many ways unusually keen, complete mistress of her emotions, either was insane or had the mentality of a child. Both of these designs were known to be nothing but part of the process of cheating justice.

The lawyer for the defense has been praised for his conduct of the case. He has been credited with a considerable achievement in keeping his client from the gallows. Had he succeeded in having her turned loose labeled as innocent and misunderstood, doubtless that would have been rated as a veritable triumph.

THE SENSE OF HONOR

According to a bank robber recently captured and confessing his guilt, he engaged in crime from a sense of honor that impelled him to pay a debt, the obligation itself being legitimate. In this attitude he illustrates the perverted instinct that shapes the thief's code of conduct. It is a phase of the belief that the world owes the individual a living, and that, failing to hand it over, the world must expect the individual to reach for it regardless of property rights.

Nobody knows better than the robber does, that the plea he puts forth is without value. It would be impossible for justice to recognize in it even a remote excuse for clemency. Were it to be accepted, banditry might as well cease to be classed as a crime and be listed as a vocation.

In this particular instance the group with which the robber operated had been guilty of numerous holdups, burglaries and other acts of violence. They had taken money from hard-working persons who had earned it and could not afford to lose it. If they did this by reason of debts they desired to pay, the creditors have not been advantaged. In need of cash, the robbers shrank from the hard alternative of going to work. They preferred to have the other fellow work while they grabbed his wages. The story of the leader is not making a good case for him or his band.

A GREAT CIVIC CENTER

San Francisco has just dedicated a great civic center. The group of buildings as now completed constitutes a noble architectural ensemble. It forms by all odds the impressive feature of the city so far as the visitor is concerned. Residents have reason for being proud of it, and the speed with which it came into being after the great fire. But the dedication was marked by the laying of a cornerstone for another edifice in harmony with those already finished, and to be fully as imposing as any. This will be for the use of the state, housing the many offices that are scattered throughout the business district of the bay city.

For many years Los Angeles has been talking of a civic center. Plans without number have been suggested, tentatively advanced, and set aside. There has been a clash of local interests. The desire to profit in realty deals has not been absent. It is too bad that this has been the case, for the whole of Southern California would be gratified to see in the metropolis of this end of the state a civic center as beautiful as that in the metropolis of the north. There was an effort to have authorization for a state building there also at the same time that such authority was granted concerning the San Francisco project. To mention the fact, however, is to tread on ground somewhat delicate, for the voters of the south sustained the north, and those of the north failed to reciprocate.

Despite the long delay it is inevitable that Los Angeles shall one day have an adequate civic center. It is impossible to name an early date for the actual beginning.

CASE OF THE INDIAN

In reply to numerous allegations that the Indians have not been properly treated, Special Agent Peel v[illegible]tures defense of the methods of the government. Among other things he says that one of the chief difficulties lies in the fact that the majority of the Indians in the United States are shiftless, extravagant, and have no knowledge of economy. Some inquiry [illegible] to where rests responsibility for this condition is [illegible] enough, providing the condition exists.

[illegible] government adopted the plan of making wards [illegible]. In this it agreed to supply their [illegible] always do so, owing to the fact that much o[illegible]ent to them was stolen on the way. There could well have been another method sure to make them helpless dependents, relying wholly on being fed and clothed, work or no work. If the design had been to train them to be loafers and profligates, it could not have been devised more cunningly. They were not aliens, not citizens. They were as near nothing as possible to make them by legislation. They could not have ambition. Had they had ambition they were denied all initiative. There was no goal for them to reach; no prize in sight.

Not only were they handicapped in this manner, but faith was not kept. A tribe would be given a reservation. The members of the tribe knew that just as soon as the land was needed by the whites they would be asked to move along, their own wishes not being consulted. No wonder that the system has made many of them seem worthless.

POLITICAL PRISONERS

There has grown up a habit of referring to the imprisoned radicals whose avowed purpose is the destruction of government, as political prisoners. It does not seem necessary, in maintaining a spirit of fairness, to proclaim them by this mild and misleading title. When the instruments of campaign include torch and bomb, and the teaching and practice of treason, the crime constituted of the methods is more than political. Murder and arson, syndicalism and sabotage are not political acts. They are the acts of murderers, incendiaries, vandals and thieves.

Much talk is heard of the prospective release of many of the offenders. In a few cases they may be weak-minded dupes who have fallen under the influence of the reds. The courses of some of them may be traced to the parlor bolshevist. Education abroad had led others to hate all authority, because where such authority was exercised, it had been likely to lay restraining hands upon them. But even the better among them are not good citizens, have no desire to become good citizens, and, given their freedom would continue to be, as now, the enemies of organized society. Therefore the mention of releasing them does not strike the average American as calling for approval, much less for applause.

An allegation is made that the long sentences imposed are illegal. This is not said in reference to time served, but to time yet to be served. Should this allegation be sustained, of course the offenders will be released regardless of their moral status. Even in instances demanding severity, nobody desires punishment inflicted except in a fashion wholly within bounds of the law.

NOT IN QUEST OF PEACE

Opinion on this side of the water is losing the savor of patience or even of sympathy in contemplation of the so-called peace conference at Lausanne. The reason for this is the waning of the belief that any nation represented there is acting in good faith. When the events that led up to the gathering are scrutinized, there stand revealed many evidences that the whole European struggle is the scramble of selfish interests, based primarily upon commercial reasons.

England and France blame Lloyd George for the Greek campaign into Asia Minor. It cost him the premiership and the regard of the French. The end of this campaign was worse than mere fiasco. It not only resulted in the utter defeat of the Greeks, but as they came terrified from the scene of conflict, they brought the Turk, with courage born anew, and fresh arrogance, once more to plague Europe.

France apparently has great designs of aggrandizement. It does not seem that she desires Germany to pay reparations, but on the other hand, awaits with eagerness the opportunity to invade the Ruhr region, and plant her authority there for all time.

At this season of good will, there is absence of any sign of that quality in Europe. They haggle, they quarrel, they threaten, and they are ready to fight. They have strayed from the paths of industry and they have forgotten the utility of toil. They see a prize and they seek to grasp it. Former allies look upon each other with hatred and suspicion. The little nations pattern after the big. There is no altruism, no kindliness; nothing but supreme and unreasoning greed.

In Detroit a judge proposes to apply sanity tests to persons arrested for speeding. The plan has points of excellence. Were a jury to find that a speed maniac was also a maniac in a broader sense, there could be no hesitency in depriving him of the machine he uses as a deadly weapon.

---

Several years ago a small bank in a Chicago suburb failed. It had liabilities of $30,000, and its assets came to about $7000 less. The president of the bank said that the deficit should be made good, and that he would do this, no matter how many years elapsed. The other day he sent his check for the full amount. By this he proved his right to be known as an honest man.

THE RIGHT WORD

By W. CURTIS NICHOLSON

QUERIES

"Yes, Ma'am."

M. J. Callaghan: "We have had a controversy in our office in reference to the use of 'Yes, ma'am'. Will you please advise us regarding its usage?" Answer: "Ma'am" is an abbreviation of madam. It is a respectful address to a woman, paralleling the use of sir in the case of a man. It is a colloquial usage and is heard in some parts of the country more than in others.

"Guaranty" and "Guarantee."

"Analytical": "I wonder if you will set me right by advising me, through your column, the distinction between the words 'guaranty' and 'guarantee,' with examples." Answer: Each of these words is both a verb and a noun. As verbs they are interchangeable; likewise, as nouns. However, according to the New Standard Dictionary guaranty, in law and careful writing, is preferred in both parts of speech.

"Contractual"

M. Straus: "Will you kindly inform me whether there is any such word as contractual; as, entering into any contractual liability? Is not contractile the proper word?" Answer: Contractual is the right word. Contractile means capable of contracting or of becoming less in extent.

"Authorization"

Miss F. Dunitz: "To settle a dispute will you kindly advise whether the following expression is permissible when it is intended to convey the fact that authority has been conferred: 'We have authorization . . .'? Also will you please advise whether it is correct to conclude a clause with a preposition; as, '. . . for us to make our arrangements in'?" Answer: Usage and ease in speech frequently allow a preposition's ending a clause or sentence. Say: We have been authorized.

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

You with the ordinary allotment of little griefs and worries and frets!
What are your troubles anyway?
As little as the sand grain on the seashore.
The leaf blown by the wind.
The drop of rain in the torrent!

Yet you are concerned and you despair and you lament and rail.
Shame upon you!
For a little courage, a little effort, a little good sense, and they are gone from you.
As the dew drop vanishes before the morning sun.

You look at your frets with a magnifying glass.
The magnifying glass of your own self pity.
And you make them a thousand times bigger than they really are.
All the fibres of them standing out like great limbs on a tree.

Now drop the magnifying glass.
And get the reversed telescope.
The reversed telescope of appreciation of your blessings.
Turn that on your troubles.
And they are as little as pebbles on the shore.
They vanish into nothingness.

Self pity is your scourge.
Out with it.
There is no place for it in a wholesome philosophy.
It is corrosive and destructive.
It makes you a maundering and slobbering malcontent.
People with real things to worry about do not pity themselves.
They set to work to help themselves.

What do most of us know about trouble anyway?
We get a flea bite and we think it is smallpox.
We prick the skin and we think we have a mortal wound.
We bark a shin and we think it is something to entitle us to the cross of the legion of honor.

We are distressed to collapse when there are a few coffee grounds on the top of the cup.
We rail at little nothings.
We sputter and fume and fuss over trivial things.
Not realizing how childish we are.
Little fussers.

There is plenty of real trouble in the world.
People with mortal illnesses.
Parents in grinding poverty seeking to rear children.
Men with dependents out of jobs and money.
Illness.
Disease.
Poverty.
Sudden and untimely death.

Read a sentence from a letter received by the editor of this Listening Post a few days ago.
Concerning a man of years of sorrows.
Who does his work every day cheerfully and honestly:

"This man has lifted a helpless son every morning from his bed to a chair and lifted him back again at night FOR THIRTY-FIVE YEARS."

There is courage for you.
There is spiritual strength and gladness.
To be able to render service to the helpless and unfortunate.
And that man has grown by that task to spiritual greatness.
He is not worrying about trouble.
He is meeting need with courage.

Little troubles and fusses and frets.
Out upon them.
The men and women with real burdens do not consider them as troubles.
They consider them as privileges.
Sacred and solemn and sweet.

Songs of the Poets

HAVE YOU DONE ANYTHING LIKE THIS?

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

They were two couples, happily married, home making and contented. But one wife was idle and dissatisfied. She had married early and felt that she was cheated.

The other wife had married a bit late. She loved her husband with a devotion approaching worship and her home was her haven, her heaven, and her one interest.

Wife No. 1 saw the happiness in the home of wife No. 2. She also saw the husband and decided she would like to try if she could detach him from his home and make him hers.

So she became a habitue of the home, where she was welcomed and trusted. Little by little she suggested to the happy husband that with a different woman he could be still happier, little by little she got her arms about his neck, her lips on his, her grasp on his consciousness.

Bit by bit he yielded until he was in the net—and then he woke up. At bottom he was honorable and he did not mean to break his home or wound his wife. The affair that had begun as a pastime ended a tragedy for the flirtatious woman had fallen in love with the husband of the friend whom she had betrayed and he with her. However, he stayed by his wife and children and the siren had to stay by her family.

But the harmony between the couples was broken and from that day love and light left two homes. Four people went down the years with aching hearts and a husband and a wife never knew what it was that had robbed them of life's dearest possession.

They are living on today, these four, doing their duty as best they may; but the joy that might have gone down the years with them died aborning. The siren missed her mark but ruined her happiness; and she also ruined the happiness of three other people.

You can't punish a woman for such work, no more can you punish a man. But to come between two who are happily married is worse than murder and more destructive than canker. And it's done every day, done because women are vain and dishonest, because men are egoistic and polygamous. And we sit idly by and wonder why the world is not a happier place.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

SCORNERS OF SALVATION

[Baltimore American]

Alice Paul, the "Woman's party" leader, relieved herself of the following hectic observations in particular reference to conditions at large:

"Women don't deserve anything better. Women won't vote for women. Women won't patronize women in business. Women won't go to women doctors. Women won't take their cases to women lawyers. And this in the year 1922! The women of the United States have deluded themselves into thinking they are politically advanced when they are really far behind the women of the rest of the world."

Why don't women vote for women? Because, generally speaking, they believe men make better legislators.

Why don't women go to women doctors? If that is reasonably true. Because they know that men doctors, with exceptions, are more experienced and that men have built up, almost entirely, medical practice to its present efficiency.

Why don't women go to women doctors? If lawyers? Because men lawyers, having virtually all the experience in law, are, again with exceptions, obviously more fitted to its practice both by temperament and training.

The truth is that the average woman is endowed with a full share of ordinary common sense and that women like Alice Paul are fanciful and ill-balanced.

The striving of the more warped of the suffragists to start a sex war and place men and women in competition all down the economic and social line, isn't dangerous, nor worth opposition on that ground. It is just silly and, being silly, it is wearisome.

WILLIAM THE HAPPY

[The Independent]

William of Doorn, one-time emperor or Germany, king of Prussia, etc., says that he is the happiest man in the world. And well he might be. After four crowded years of roaring excitement, after draining to the dregs the joys of power, he retires to lead the life of a country gentleman, with stores of books and choice of friends, and (O miracle and bounty of fortune) new Love to lend a nameless grace and perfume to his autumnal days. What could be thought to add a consummating touch to an existence so nearly ideal? One thing only, the joy of successful (i. e., lucrative, the two being synonymous in the view of all men of sense!) authorship.

And not only is our good William happy (Oh! so happy) in the present, not only must he be happy in retrospect (when to the sessions of sweet silent thought he summons up remembrance of things past), but he must look forward with a certain complacency to the time when Atropos shall have dealt with him. For he knows that a goodly company await him—Sulla, Nero, Alaric, Genseric, Jenghiz Khan, Timur the Lame, Wallenstein, many others—ready to do him reverence and acclaim him Chief of the Scourges of God.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

Down in Oklahoma a pretty school teacher brought suit for $20,000 damages, alleging slander. The defendant was a rich farmer. Before the action had proceeded far, the defendant interposed a plea of guilty, handed the school teacher a check for $5000, and the court adjourned.

HENRY JAMES

The account of the incident occupies but a few lines in the news. It is chiefly of interest, of course, in the district wherein the teacher is training the young idea. Yet it has a wide significance. It ought to be a lesson to the loose-tongued.

There is a gross practice of speaking evil. Often it is a bad habit even when there are facts to sustain the charge made against the character of the individual discussed. There is no sense in gossiping about matters that are none of the business of the gossiper.

Often in a group of men or of women there will be implied allegations concerning the morals or conduct of some person not present, and more likely than not, there will be no shred of truth in the attack. If the men concerning whose honesty there are sneers deserved the sneers, then the world would be without honest men. But to injure the character, or seek to injure the character of a woman is meaner, more cowardly and more common.

It is refreshing to learn that there is one woman who had the courage to resent the attack of the slanderer, and made him pay cash for indulgence. If every tongue that runs wild were to involve the owner in similar expense, it might be tamed.

Years ago in Colorado a husband and wife were lynched. The community in which this occurred, ordinarily law-abiding, interposed no objection at the time, and offered no adverse criticism later. The pair had murdered a little girl, the crime being without shadow of extenuating circumstance.

The man was hanged first. Then the committee went into consultation as to the fate of the woman. She did not soften, but informed them rather coldly that she expected to become a mother. That settled the case for her. The committee gravely decided that no more of the breed would be desirable.

England is now considering a case in which the plea for clemency is based solely on prospective motherhood, this fact recalling the Colorado episode of the eighties, and arousing some interest as to how nearly a dignified court will be of a mind with a somewhat undignifed and yet orderly mob.

Sara Bernhardt is old, but "time cannot wither." The whole world is her friend, and is greatly cheered to learn that she has just accomplished one of her marvelous recoveries.

Doctors told Sara that she was about to die. They were much disconcerted when she refused to believe them, and went on planning a future of indefinite length.

A sad affair is reported from New York. A little girl had dressed as a gypsy to "give grandpa some fun when he came home." Grandfather came in due time, and entering into the spirit of the occasion, playfully acted as though scared, and made a pretense of defending himself with a gun.

Not very long after the funeral of the child, the grandfather was found on her grave, shot through the head. The dispatch does not say whether he had used the same weapon, but he had known that the weapon of the second and quite natural episode was loaded.

Justice Richardson of Los Angeles sent a man to jail for six months for having cruelly beaten his son. A father has certain rights. It sometimes is necessary to castigate a lad. But to suspect the little fellow of an offense, and then thrash him nearly to death, goes beyond the limit.

The justice said he was sorry he could not name a longer term. In this sentiment he is likely to have unanimous support, barring that of the father, of course.

At this writing the state of Illinois has presented its evidence in the Herrin case where half a dozen are on trial for the murder of a score. Doubtless the defense will have a case to present also, but in the face of the testimony now of record, nobody could imagine what will be the nature of it.

There is a blonde young woman, very comely, very quiet, whose name is Mary Smith, and who is in politics in this end of the state. Not that she would accept an office. Such proffers she waves aside, as not being her game at all. Her business is to get the office for somebody else. She manages campaigns. The man who gets her services does not need any rabbit's foot. Lady Luck is on his side in person.

WATCHING THE PARADE

BY JOHN PILGRIM

Mrs. Pilgrim says that our neighbor is about the finest little woman she knows. Pretty, she says, and smart, and a clever housekeeper. She thinks sometimes that our little neighbor's husband does not quite appreciate her. He snaps sometimes, just as any low masculine dog will that is kept too much of the time on a chain.

"I'll tell you the trouble," I said. "She's too derned practical. I prefer girls who are not quite so business like. That kind make sweeter homes."

So I was properly chidden and retired to my proper place in the Pilgrim residence, which is under the bed growling, and said no more. But I maintain that I am right. Undue practicality has ruined the happiness of as many homes as has the complete lack of that quality in a wife. A husband likes to confront something besides a daily audit when he gets home at night.

Our little neighbor and her husband moved into the house next door about a year ago. The husband is a fine, upstanding, broad-shouldered chap, with plenty of push and individuality. Hardly had they got the curtains hung and the floors polished than he went away on a business trip. When he came back I happened to be sitting where I could hear them talk.

"See what I've brought you, honey," said the husband.

It was easy to hear the note of happiness and pride in his voice. He had picked out a gift for that little wife that would just tickle her to death, he knew. He had been thinking for a week past of the glint that would come in her eyes when she saw it, and of the manner in which she would snuggle up to him and reward him with a kiss.

"Oh," she said, flatly. No pleasure, no happiness, no welcome in that tone. Just a flat, lifeless "oh." By and by she said:

"I don't want you to think that I do not appreciate your present, but don't you think you might have picked out something more suitable. Especially when you know how much I need——"

The voices moved away. But never since have I heard of the young husband giving the practical little wife a gift. It seems to me that something has gone out of his voice when he speaks to her. Oh, he loves her, of course. Loves her as much as ever, perhaps. But—

She has deprived him of one of the great pleasures of life. The pleasure of giving.

ORDINANCE NO. 717

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE CONSTRUCTION, ERECTION, MAINTENANCE AND USE OF BILLBOARDS IN THE CITY OF GLENDALE.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE:

SECTION 1. The term "billboard" as used in this Ordinance is hereby defined to be any board, fence, sign or structure erected for advertising purposes, and upon which any advertisement is shown, or whereon any poster, bill, printing, painting, device or other advertising matter of any kind whatsoever may be placed, stuck, tacked, posted, printed, painted, pasted or fastened, but this definition shall not be held to include any board, sign or surface used to display official notices, issued by any court or public office, or posted by any public officers in the performance of a public duty, or used to display announcement of meetings to be held upon premises whereon such billboards or bulletin boards are displayed, or used to advertise any business conducted on the premises where such billboard or bulletin board is located.

SECTION 2. The term "outdoor advertising" as used in this Ordinance is hereby defined to be advertising on any board, fence or structure, or the placing thereon of any poster, bill, printing, painting, device or any advertising matter of any kind whatsoever, and the passing, posting, painting, printing, nailing or tacking or otherwise fastening of any hand-bill, card, banner, sign, poster, advertisement or notice of any kind upon any property or place.

SECTION 3. For the purpose of regulating the erection, construction, and maintenance of billboards and advertising sign boards within the City of Glendale, the territory of the said city shall be divided into districts to be designated and known as (1) Residence Districts, and (2) Commercial and Industrial Districts.

SECTION 4. The Residence Districts shall consist of and include all portions of the City of Glendale not included in the Commercial and Industrial Districts.

SECTION 5. The Commercial and Industrial Districts shall consist of and include all that portion of the City of Glendale designated as Commercial and Industrial Districts in Ordinance No. 529 of the City of Glendale, passed January 12, 1922, and entitled, "An Ordinance of the City of Glendale establishing a Residential District, an Industrial District, and Four Commercial Districts in said city; regulating and restricting the location and locations of and the maintenance and carrying on of industries, trades and businesses in said city; providing for a Residential, Industrial and Commercial District Map of said city; prescribing the penalty for the violation hereof; and repealing certain ordinances," as that ordinance is now operative and as the same may be amended and altered from time to time, or by other ordinances establishing such districts.

SECTION 6. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect or construct, or to cause or permit to be erected or constructed within any Residence District, any billboard or advertising sign board of an area of more than twelve (12) square feet, or to erect or construct or permit to be erected or constructed, any billboard or advertising sign board within a distance of less than fifteen (15) feet from another billboard or advertising sign board erected in the Residence District. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect or construct, or to cause or permit to be erected or constructed, any billboard or advertising sign board upon any lot or premises in the City of Glendale, in such a manner that any portion of such billboard or advertising sign board is nearer to the line of any public sidewalk, street or alley or other public place than the front line of the nearest dwelling in the same block which faces on any such public sidewalk, street, alley or other public place; provided, however, that if said dwelling is not within one hundred (100) feet of said billboard or if the property intervening between said dwelling and such billboard or sign board is occupied by a building or structure devoted to business purposes, then the billboard or sign board may be built nearer to the line of the public street, alley or other public place than the front line of the nearest dwelling.

SECTION 7. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect, construct or maintain, or to cause or permit to be erected, constructed or maintained within the City of Glendale, any billboard or advertising sign board having a surface sign space more than ten feet in height; provided, however, that an ornamental moulding or cornice not exceeding two feet in width may be placed around the same, and ornamental posts or columns may be placed at each end of said sign space.

SECTION 8. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect, construct or maintain, or to cause or permit to be erected, constructed or maintained within the City of Glendale, any billboard or advertising sign board unless all portions of the base line thereof shall be at least twelve inches from the surface of the ground and no portion of such base line shall be more than five feet from the surface of the ground; provided, however, that in the event the surface of the ground upon which any billboard or advertising sign board is erected or maintained is below the level of the street upon which the board faces, no portion of such base line shall be more than five feet above the level of the street upon which the board faces.

The space below the base line shall be kept clear, with the exceptions of the necessary upright supports; provided, however, that a horizontal member six inches wide or an ornamental lattice work may be placed between the base line and the ground, but the members comprising such lattice work shall be of uniform width and shall be so spaced that the open or clear space between the members of such lattice work shall be at least equal to the greatest width of any member thereof; also ornamental pilasters not exceeding two feet in width and placed not closer than twelve feet from center to center may be set between the base line and the ground. It shall be unlawful to place or maintain any ornamental lattice work between the base line of any billboard or advertising sign board and the ground unless the space between the base line thereof and the ground be at least sixteen inches and no baseboard shall be used at the bottom edge of the lattice work unless fourteen inches of lattice work is exposed between the base line of the billboard or advertising sign board and the base board. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to construed as applying to any billboard or advertising sign board the full length of which is fastened to, or the vertical supports of which are placed against the side of a building.

SECTION 9. All billboards with an advertising surface in excess of thirty square feet shall be constructed according to the following specifications:

The surface of the billboard shall be securely fastened to a framework, the posts or uprights of which shall be redwood not less than four (4) inches by six (6) inches in dimensions, shall be spaced not more than eight (8) feet apart, shall extend to the top of the billboard, and shall be set not less than three (3) feet in the ground; and the earth about the posts shall be securely tamped into place. The material which composes the surface of the billboard shall be securely attached to wooden stringers, which stringers shall run continuously the entire length of the billboard. There shall not be less than one (1) stringer, two (2) inches by four (4) inches in dimensions, for each four (4) feet or fraction thereof that the surface of such billboards is in height; provided, however, that when the advertising surface of a billboard does not exceed ten (10) feet in height, three (3) wooden stringers may be employed; the one to which the top edge of the advertising surface is attached shall be two (2) inches by six (6) inches in dimensions; the one to which the middle of the advertising surface is attached shall be two (2) inches by four (4) inches in dimensions; and the one to which the lower edge of the advertising surface is attached shall be two (2) inches by six (6) inches in dimensions. Each wooden stringer shall be attached to each post with three (3) 30d nails.

The vertical posts shall be braced by wooden braces two (2) inches by six (6) inches in dimensions; one brace to each post; each brace to be securely attached to the top or within two (2) feet of the top of each post with three (3) 40d nails. The lower end shall be securely attached with three (3) 40d nails to a redwood anchor post not less than four (4) inches by six (6) inches by five (5) feet in dimensions. Said anchor post shall be set back of the vertical post a distance equal to one-third (1-3) of the total height of the billboard above the ground and said anchor post shall be set not less than four (4) feet in the ground and in such a position as to make an angle of approximately ninety (90) degrees with the brace. A cross-piece fourteen (14) inches long of two (2) inch by six (6) inch redwood shall be securely nailed with three (3) 30d nails across the back of the lower end of the anchor post, and a piece of redwood, two (2) inches by six (6) inches by eighteen (18) inches in dimensions, shall be securely nailed with three (3) 30d nails across the front of the anchor post six (6) inches below the ground surface. Concrete or steel anchor posts or other types of equal strength may be substituted for the foregoing.

Signs with a circular advertising surface and not to exceed ten (10) feet in diameter may be erected on one (1) post or standard; such post or standard to be of redwood not less than six (6) inches by eight (8) inches in size. The standard or post shall be set not less than four (4) feet in the ground and extend to the top of the advertising surface of the sign, the circular surface of the sign to be attached by two (2) inch by four (4) inch stringers which in turn shall be securely nailed to the vertical post.

No advertising sign or structure shall be erected in the City of Glendale unless the same be built to withstand a wind pressure of twenty (20) pounds per square foot and the Superintendent of Buildings shall have the right to require that any advertising sign or structure which is not securely built as provided in this section shall be either strengthened or removed.

The specifications provided in this section shall not apply to a sign or sign board which is fastened to, or the vertical supports of which are placed against the walls of a building; provided, however, that the Superintendent of Buildings shall be satisfied that such a board is securely built.

SECTION 10. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect or construct, or to cause or permit to be erected or constructed or maintained with in Fire District No. 1 of the City of Glendale, as said district is now or may be hereafter established by ordinance of said city, any billboard or advertising sign board, unless the same be built and constructed entirely of metal or other non-combustible materials in all parts thereof except the posts or standards upon which such structure rests and moulding strips of wood.

SECTION 11. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect or construct or to cause or permit to be erected or constructed or maintained within the City of Glendale, outside of said Fire District No. 1, any billboard or advertising sign board, the surface of which is constructed of wood or other inflammable material unless all portions of such billboard or advertising sign board shall be at least six (6) feet from any building or other structure built or constructed of wood or other inflammable materials.

SECTION 12. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation erecting, constructing, owning or controlling any billboard or advertising sign board within the City of Glendale to fail, refuse or neglect to remove or cause to be removed at all times, weeds, rubbish or any inflammable waste or material from the base of any such billboard or advertising sign board build or constructed of wood or other inflammable material.

SECTION 13. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation erecting, constructing, owning or controlling any billboard or advertising sign board to fail, refuse or neglect to cause the name of the person, firm or corporation erecting, constructing, owning or controlling such billboard or advertising sign board to be plainly marked, painted or outlined upon or above such billboard or advertising sign board in a conspicuous place thereon.

SECTION 14. All billboards which are constructed on street lines or within three (3) feet therefrom, shall have a smooth surface and no nails, tacks, or wires shall be permitted to protrude therefrom, except electrical reflectors or devices extending over the top and in front of the billboards to be used for illuminating purposes.

SECTION 15. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation except a public officer or employee in the performance of a public duty, or a private person in giving a legal notice, to paste, post, paint, print, nail or tack or otherwise fasten any card, banner, hand-bill, sign, poster, advertisement or notice of any kind upon any property without the written consent of the owner, holder, lessee, agent or trustee thereof.

SECTION 17. No person, firm or corporation shall scatter, daub or leave any paint, paste, glue or other substance used for painting or affixing advertisement matter upon any public street or sidewalk or scatter or throw or permit to be scattered or thrown, on any public street or on private property, any bills, waste matter, paper, cloth or materials of whatsoever kind removed from billboards.

SECTION 18. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to exhibit, post or display, or to cause or permit to be exhibited, posted or displayed, upon any billboard or advertising sign board, any statement, words or signs of any obscene, indecent or immoral nature, or any picture, illustration or delination of any human figure in such detail as to offend public morality or decency; or of any lewd of lascivious act, or any other matter or thing of an obscene, indecent or immoral nature, or offensive to the moral sense; or any murder, suicide, robbery, hold-up, shooting, stabbing, clubbing or beating of any human being, wherein any such act is shown in gruesome detail, or in a revolting manner, or in any manner objectionable to the moral sense.

SECTION 19. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect, construct or to cause or permit to be erected or constructed any billboard, advertising sign board or roof sign of a surface area of more than twelve (12) square feet within the City of Glendale, or to make any alteration to any such billboard, advertising sign board or roof sign, or to remove from one location and re-erect in another, any such billboard, advertising sign or roof sign without first having secured a written permit from the Superintendent of Buildings so to do.

Any person, firm or corporation desiring such permits shall file with the Superintendent of Buildings, on a blank to be furnished by said Superintendent of Buildings, an application therefor. Such application shall set forth the location on which it is proposed to erect such billboard or advertising sign board or roof sign, describing the same by lot and block or by other description by which the same may be readily located or identified. Such application shall be accompanied by plans and specifications in duplicate of the proposed billboard or advertising sign board or roof sign, the number of square feet contained in the surface area of such board, together with such other information as the Superintendent of Buildings may require.

If the plans, specifications and statements, and the inspection as required by Section 21 of this ordinance show that the erection, construction, removal or maintenance of the proposed billboard, advertising sign board or roof sign shall be in accordance with all of the requirements of this ordinance, said Superintendent of Buildings shall issue a permit upon the payments by the applicant, of a fee of twenty-five (25) cents for each twenty-five (25) lineal feet, or fractional part thereof, of such billboard, advertising sign board or roof sign to be erected, altered, removed or maintained.

The term alteration shall not be construed to apply to painting of or changing of any advertising matter on any billboard or advertising sign board, or roof sign; provided, however, in the event it is desired to alter or change in the event it is desired to alter or board, advertising sign board or roof sign only, the Superintendent of Buildings may, in his discretion, omit the requirements for plans and specifications, and issue a permit for the proposed work, upon the filing and approval of an application, together with a written statement satisfactory to such Superintendent of Buildings.

SECTION 20. Before any permit required by this ordinance is issued for the erection, removal or maintenance of a billboard, advertising sign or roof sign, the Superintendent of Buildings shall cause an inspection to be made of the location of the proposed site of such billboard, advertising sign board or roof sign.

SECTION 21. The Superintendent of Buildings may make such investigation or take such other action as in his judgment may seem proper and necessary in the enforcement of the provisions of this ordinance. He shall also investigate or cause to be investigated all reported infractions of this ordinance, or amendments thereto, and shall report all cases of apparent infraction thereof to the Chief of Police, or shall request that a warrant of arrest be sworn out in the proper court against the person or persons responsible for or causing such apparent infraction.

SECTION 22. No sign shall be erected upon the roof of any building in the City of Glendale unless the same shall be built to withstand a wind pressure of twenty (20) pounds per square foot of exposed surface. No roof sign shall be built upon the roof of any building in Fire District No. 1 in the City of Glendale unless the supporting members of the framework and the surface of said sign are of steel and no sign shall be erected upon the roof of any building in the City of Glendale unless the bottom of said sign is at least six (6) feet above the roof of the building upon which it rests and no such sign shall be built within three (3) feet of the Firewall of the building upon which it rests, which firewall faces the street upon which the building fronts.

SECTION 23. That any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00), or by imprisonment in the City Jail of the City of Glendale, or the County Jail of the County of Los Angeles for a period of not more than six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Each such person, firm or corporation shall be deemed guilty of a separate offense for every day during any portion of which any violation of any provision of this ordinance is committed, continued or permitted by such person, firm or corporation, and shall be punishable therefor as provided by this ordinance.

SECTION 24. All of Ordinance No. 116 of the City of Glendale, passed January 19, 1910, and entitled, "An Ordinance regulating the construction and maintenance of bill boards and advertising sign boards, and the use of pictures, cartoons, caricatures and illustrations for advertising purposes, and providing for licensing and regulating the business of bill posting and advertising within the limits of the City of Glendale, and fixing a penalty for the violation hereof," and all other ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance, are hereby repealed; provided, that such repeal shall not affect or prevent the prosecution or punishment of any person for any act done in violation of any ordinance of said City which may be repealed by this ordinance; and shall not affect any prosecution or action which may be pending in any court for the violation of any of the provisions of any ordinance of said City repealed by this ordinance.

SECTION 25. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, void or invalid, the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance shall not be affected thereby, it being the intent of the Council of the City of Glendale in adopting, and of the Mayor in approving this ordinance, that no portion thereof, or provision or regulation contained therein shall become inoperative or fail by reason of any unconstitutionality or invalidity or any other portion, provision or regulation.

AT THE THEATRES

'DANGEROUS AGE' IS SENSATION AT T. D. & L.

"The Dangerous Age," a John M. Stahl-First National attraction is now enjoying a sensational run at the T. D. & L. theatre. It is conceded to be the best production ever made by Mr. Stahl, who has such pictures as "One Clear Call," "The Song of Life," and "The Child Thou Gavest Me" to his credit.

Lewis S. Stone plays the part of John Andrews, a married man who, when in the "dangerous age," sought diversion in far-off fields. His attempts to find gayety result in a series of adventures that go to make up one of the most absorbing stories ever shown on the screen. The action ranges from California to New York city, and includes a horse race and a sensational race between a transcontinental train and an automobile.

This is the last day.

'FORGET ME NOT' AT GLENDALE THEATRE

"Forget-Me-Not," the Metro picture which is at the Glendale theatre, reproduces with great fidelity the life story of two foundlings.

In the orphanage where her mother left her as a baby, Ann Gordon had found one congenial soul, another foundling named Jimmy. But one day there comes a rich woman who chooses Jimmy for adoption and Ann is left alone. The other children eventually find homes but no one wants the little girl with a crippled leg. A street musician takes pity on her and she goes to share his meagre one-room home. Thus the paths of the two childhood sweethearts diverge but through the long years Ann carries the memory of Jimmy and from it draws inspiration and courage in her struggle to become a successful violinist.

The next presidential campaign will have as its slogan "Light Wines and Dark Beers!" is now fairly certain.

There will be great problems such as the tariff, the income tax, the foreign policy, etcetera, but the American public will forget them all under the one impelling thought that it has a terrible thirst and would like to put down a nickel and get a glass of able-bodied beer.

More and more voters are beginning to realize that the act of driving a bungstarter into a barrel of perfectly reliable beer should not constitute a criminal offense in the land of the censored and the home of the hair tonic.

Just as the Full Dinner Pail constituted a campaign slogan in many a past campaign the Full Beer Pail will constitute the battle cry in the next. The party that will triumph two years from now will have to be the party of reasonable alcoholic content.

America has had a prohibition law three years and all it has done is to make the bootlegging industry the second largest in the country, make the bottling of iodine and creosote a skilled profession and cause many a man to regard ten feet of copper coil as the most indispensable interior decoration for any home.

It has done away with the saloon, or at least moved it a couple of flights upstairs.

This makes little difference to a customer until it becomes necessary to throw him out. Enough customers have been thrown out of speak-easies on third or fourth floors during the past few years to create a strong demand for the return of ground-floor barrooms.

Not that the saloon will ever come back as such. Open saloons openly arrived at are a thing of the past. Nobody really wants the old-time saloon back. The drug stores are just as attractive and have everything but the sawdust and pinochle deck.

* * *

The saloon was beyond all doubt a serious evil. A man would stop in on his way home from the office and stay there until midnight. Now everything is different. He goes into a bootlegger's office and stays there until the coroner arrives.

* * *

On a Saturday afternoon many a man would draw his pay, drop in at Callahan's bar and spend two or three dollars getting forty or fifty drinks. Today he spends forty or fifty dollars getting two or three drinks. It has got so a drinking man getting a salary of $50 a week will let the boss pay him off with three quarts instead.

* * *

Regarding a faithful worker for good service by raising his salary a half pint has become a common thing. The slogan of the day has become "Drink, drink and be merry, for tomorrow the stuff will go up another two dollars."

* * *

There are signs that Congress is beginning to see the light. What really happened in the recent election was that a large number of dry congressmen were hit on the head by empty bottles hurled by wet voters. Some of the congressmen thanked the voters for the bottles, and turned them over to the bootleggers to be refilled with Grade A varnish, but others realized the bottles were a knock, not a compliment, and are beginning to reflect.

* * *

The Democrats, encouraged by the victory of the pronounced wets by sweeping majorities in many states, are considering prohibition as the main issue in the next presidential campaign. Speeches in the next campaign may be made from barrels instead of platforms, and the battle cry may be "Back to the five-cent glass of able-bodied beer or bust!"

* * *

A candidate for the presidency who will come out for good beer and non-sickening claret, coupled with a candidate for the vice-presidency who will stand firmly for the return of the free lunch, should win in a common decanter, as the race-track men say.

When the Volstead act is modified it probably will provide various ways to get beer and wine openly and honestly without fear of getting shot, arrested or embalmed. The milk man will deliver the beer and the groceryman will deliver the bologna, cheese, pretzels and crackers.

* * *

Home will again become something other than a few rooms full of granite crocks, hops, metal pipes, rubber tubing and all the latest works of the best authors on home brewing. Several million bum chemists will retire from business voluntarily.

* * *

Even President Harding is said to have come to a decision that light wines and beers should be allowed the people. Normalcy, he has come to realize, is all right if you wet it.

* * *

As the Democratic leaders see the situation, they can win the presidency two years hence if they hold the south and capture the pivotal states in the north, most of which, they believe, can be won over on the wet issue. Thus it comes down to a matter of consolidating the Solid South with the Liquid North.

Here's hoping!

CITY PRINTING

PUBLIC NOTICE

WHEREAS, a verified petition has been filed with the City Clerk of the City of Glendale by W. M. Litchfield and others, asking that the territory therein and hereinafter described, be established and set apart, by ordinance, as a First Class Residential District, which petition proposes that such territory or district be restricted from any and all industries, trades and businesses, and from the erection, construction, establishment, alteration or change of any and all buildings, structures, or improvements which are designated, intended to arranged to be occupied or used for any purpose other than a single Family Residence or Dwelling; and

WHEREAS, said petition is signed by the owners of more than fifty per cent of the frontage of the property of such proposed district; and

WHEREAS, said City Clerk has presented said petition to the City Council, and said Council has directed that notice of a public hearing upon said petition be given by the City Clerk as required by Section 2, Article XV of the Charter of the City of Glendale, by one publication in the official newspaper of said City at least ten days before the time of hearing.

NOW, THEREFORE, pursuant to the direction of said City Council, and the requirements of Section 2, Article XV of said Charter,

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

that at the hour of 7 o'clock P. M. of the 4th day of January, 1923, at the Council chamber in the City of Glendale, a public hearing will be given and had upon said petition and the matters and things therein contained, and more particularly to determine whether said territory or district therein and hereafter described shall be established and set apart as a First Class Residential District as requested in said petition, at which time and place all persons having any objection or objections to the establishment of said First Class Residential District may appear before said City Council and present any objection or objections which they may have against the establishment of said proposed First Class Residential District.

A written protest or objection may be filed with the City Clerk by any person having an interest in any of the frontage of the property of such proposed district, or frontage of property which will be directly affected by the proposed district. Such protest or objection must be filed not later than the hour set for hearing. All protestants may appear before the Council at said hearing, either in person or by counsel, and be heard in support of their protests or objections.

The territory or district described in said petition, and which is proposed to be set apart as a First Class Residential District as aforesaid, is described as follows;

Beginning at the northwesterly corner of Lot 113 Grider and Hamilton's Lomita Park as per Map Recorded in Book 6, Page 105 of Maps, Records of Los Angeles County, California; thence easterly along the northerly lines of Lots 113, 112, 111, 110 and 109 of said Grider and Hamilton's Lomita Park to a line drawn one hundred fifty (150) feet westerly of and parallel to the westerly line of Glendale Avenue; thence southerly along said line so drawn to its intersection with the southerly line of Lot 147 of said Grider and Hamilton's Lomita Park; thence westerly along the southerly lines of Lots 147, 146, 145 and 144 of said Grider and Hamilton's Lomita Park to the easterly line of Louise Street, thence northerly along the easterly line of Louise Street to the point of beginning.

The petition above referred to is on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, and is hereby referred to for further particulars.

This notice shall be published once in the Glendale Daily Press, the official newspaper of said City, at least ten days before the date of the hearing hereinabove mentioned.

Dated, December 23, 1922.

A. J. VAN WIE,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

NOTICE OF LOCAL IMPROVEMENT

Public notice is hereby given that on the 9th day of November, 1922, the Council of the City of Glendale passed its Resolution of Intention No. 1741 declaring its intention to order the street lighting posts and other necessary works and appliances already installed in that part of Brand Boulevard hereinafter described to be maintained and electric current to be furnished therefor for the period of five years for the lighting of Brand Boulevard between the prolonged northerly line of Lot 13 of the H. M. Binford Tract, as shown on map recorded in Book 10, Page 28 of Maps, Records of Los Angeles County California, and a line drawn across Brand Boulevard from the southwest corner of Lot 11, Block 3 of Borthick's Tract, as shown on map recorded in Book 8, Page 154 of Maps, Records of said County, to the southeast corner of Lot 5 of Tract No. 393, as shown on map recorded in Book 14, Page 154 of Maps, Records of said County, and that on December 21, 1922, the Superintendent of Plant and Production of the City of Glendale filed with the Clerk of said City Council a report presenting the following:

(a) Plans and specifications for the said proposed improvement;

(b) An estimate of the cost of said proposed improvement for the period of time aforesaid;

(c) A diagram showing the assessment district for said improvement and the respective subdivisions of land within said assessment district, as the same existed at the time of the passage of said Resolution of Intention.

(d) A proposed assessment of the total amount of the costs and expenses of said proposed improvement less the part thereof to be paid by the City of Glendale, upon the several subdivisions of land in said assessment district, in proportion to the estimated benefits to be received by such subdivisions, respectively, from said improvement.

That January 11, 1923, at the hour of 7 o'clock p. m. in the Council chamber of said Council in the City Hall, No. 619 East Broadway, in said City of Glendale, has been fixed as the time and place for the hearing of protests in relation to said proposed improvement.

Reference is hereby made to said Resolution No. 1741 and to said report of the Superintendent of Plant and Production on file with the undersigned for further particulars.

A. J. VAN WIE,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

SHRINE CLUB TO GIVE KIDDIES XMAS PARTY

Annual Event to Be Held At Pearl Keller Hall on Wednesday Evening

The annual Christmas party given by the Shrine Club of Glendale for the Shriners' kiddies, their mammas and papas, will be held at the Pearl Keller hall, 109-A North Brand boulevard, Wednesday evening, December 27, at 8 o'clock.

There will be two fine, large Christmas trees beautifully trimmed that will appeal to the youngsters as well as to all of the grown-ups.

Santa Claus will be on hand to distribute candy and other gifts to the children and possibly some to their parents, too.

A very entertaining Christmas program has been prepared to enthuse us. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Kelly's Shrine club orchestra will be on hand to give us both Christmas as well as dance music.

To those that wish to participate in the good old fashioned square dances, we will nicely provide. The modern dances will be indulged in later in the evening after the program has been completed and refreshments have been served.

All Shriners and their families whether members of our club or not, are invited to come and enjoy this delightful affair with us. There will be no charge.

CITY MANAGER TO GET AFTER THE STREETS

Three Gangs to Be Sent to Fill Chuck Holes in Thoroughfares

An effort is being made by City Manager Reeves and the other city officials who have the matter of better streets in charge, to bring the roadways up to good condition.

Three road-repairing crews, under the supervision of Foreman Curl, are trying to fill all the chuck holes in the streets of the city. These crews consists of three men each. They are making a systematic survey of all the streets.

One new feature that has been established in connection with this road-repairing work is the locating of supply dumps in the various parts of the city. These cut down the time of hauling material to the streets that are in need of repair. One dump has been established in the south part of the city, and another one in the northwest section, while the central and eastern parts of town are taken care of from the main supply station located close to the city hall.

HIGH STUDENTS DISTINGUISH THEMSELVES

Reports indicate that the students in the various roll rooms in Glendale High distinguished themselves by the efficient manner in which they cared for the poor families assigned to them as Christmas charges. Not only were the families well equipped with clothing but they were also given a large amount of food and Christmas goodies in the way of candies and toys. The girls' league provided Christmas joy for 33 families, some of whom they discovered for themselves, others through the Glendale Welfare Bureau. Besides this work the league gave a party at the Boyd Street school for 33 little slum children who had a Christmas tree and received gifts of candy, nuts, apples, and several toys apiece.

F. E. Coles Have Entertained Friends

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Cole of 1471 East California entertained two groups of friends and relatives Sunday and Monday with a Christmas dinner and a Christmas tree for the children, their guest list including Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cole and infant son from Eagle Rock, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Westbrook and daughters, Evalyn and Eloise, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cole, Mrs. Louise Pollard, Miss Sara Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Chase, Miss Annie Chase, Rawson Chase and Miss Blanche Rudd of Eagle Rock.

BUILDING FERMITS

The following building permits were issued up to noon today:

TY COBB AND HIS GIFT AVERAGE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—Ty Cobb's entrance into the .400 batting class this year by an official edict from Ban Johnson recalls several incidents of the past, when the quest for a few additional points in the averages caused more or less tricky maneuvers.

The famous contest between Nap Lajoie and Cobb several years ago, when an automobile was offered for the batting leader in both leagues, is one of the most quoted. In one of the games late in the season when they were running neck and neck, Lajoie got a flock of hits on bunts down the third base line. The guardian of the hot corner was playing way back in left field.

* * * * * *

Another amusing story is told of the race this year in the National League. Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis star, was anxious to get into the .400 class and the St. Louis writers traveling with the team in Chicago were just as anxious to have their favorite make the mark.

Before the last game in Chicago one of the St. Louis writers approached the official scorekeeper and in a roundabout way refreshed his memory on the rule that the batter should be favored in case of doubt, that Rogers was a nice boy and that he wanted to bat .400, etc.

The official scorer admitted that Hornsby was entitled to consideration.

The first time up Rogers knocked the third baseman over with a drive. The second time he smashed a liner to center and the third time he doubled, whereupon the official scorer remarked to the St. Louis scribe:

"Who in the told you that bird needed any help?"

If the American League president fears that the judgment of a sport writer as an official scorer might be influenced by personal feeling or partisanship it might not be a bad idea to have his umpires give the decisions on questionable hits.

HOME NURSING and HEALTH HINTS

MORE ABOUT DIETS

Mr. Brown had been ill for weeks and was getting better. His fever was gone. His hands were very white and thin and ridiculously transparent. Moreover, his hands were weak. They trembled when he held a spoon for more than a minute at a time. He found that the business of eating a little cereal tired him out so completely that he had to rest before attacking the strips of toast his wife had piled upon a little blue plate.

The doctor, coming in while he was having his first breakfast, said cheerily, "Well, how goes it, old man?"

"Pretty darn slow. I'm windsd just trying to eat a little cereal without being spoon-fed like a baby. My wife wanted to feed me, but I told her I could manage."

The doctor grinned.

"This fever blazes through a fellow and burns out his strength pitifully," he said. "But in no time at all we will have you eating heartily, sleeping after meals, waking in a couple of hours ready for more and, eventually, able to tramp around the house and read the papers. You can," here the doctor lowered his voice confidentially, "even smoke your pipe, if you want to."

"Honestly, doc? I don't believe I could hold a match to it now. It surely will seem good to see the old pipe again."

The sick man took a piece of toast, and bit into it thoughtfully.

"About your diet," the doctor said briskly as Mrs. Brown came into the room. "You are on soft, or semi-solid diet now. That means that you may have practically any cereals, custards, milk puddings, sherbets, and jellies, with toast and crackers and strained soups and strained chicken or beef jellies."

"Doesn't interest me a bit," said the patient. "I want something to bite into. Something to chew. A man-sized meal. I've run the gamut of baby foods."

"Tomorrow," the doctor went on, "you may have a poached egg on toast for breakfast and a scraped-beef sandwich, a tender, creamed sweetbread and a glass of milk for lunch."

"What about a steak?" The man looked positively hungry as he spoke.

"Your temperature has been normal for five days," mused the doctor. "Tomorrow, the sixth day, you may have scrambled eggs, the soft part of raw oysters, some bread and butter, and some chicken jelly.

"On the seventh day a small piece of tenderloin steak, broiled, or a piece of the broast of a chicken would do you no harm."

"My own feeling is that it would do me no end of good," sighed the man happily.

"On the eighth day, a slice of tender, rare roast beef and a baked potato is the best I can think of for the moment," said the doctor. "After that you may safely eat any of the articles I have mentioned, supplementing them with bread and butter, milk and cream, eggs, cereals, and soups—also well cooked mashed vegetables and fruits."

Lady Mary Cambridge Next Queen of England

That is the latest report from London. Lady Mary is the daughter of the Marquis of Cambridge, who is a brother of the Queen of England. It is said that the marriage of the Prince of Wales and Lady Mary is looked upon with great favor.
